OR THEASURY SESSEGED—MONUMENT TO WILLIAMS, WHO CAPTURED MAJOR ANDRE—NEW YORK CENTRAL PARK—MATTISON'S PROMISED RESOLUTION OF INQUIRY, ETC.

ALRANY, Feb. 14, 1858

When reports are made by the legitimate committees of the House relative to the finances of the State, showing the dispidated condition of the treasury and recomng the most strict eschomy, all the members cry amen; but when pay is asked from the State for a dog or ort drowned in the canals, a majority stand ready to note away any amount of the canal fund. If the House A Ascendly continues in the present course of passing equal to that so generally bestowed upon the last un-procedented Legislature. It is really surprising to Halen almost daily to the bills reported by the Committee on Claims, is favor of constant invasions upon the treasury. vill be run into bankruptcy for the particular benefit of morning. A bill was up, appropriating five hundred deliars for the execution of a monument to the memory of Williams, one of the captors of Major Andre. It was stated that a suitable one has been built in the city of New York, to Paulsing's memory, another in Washington of that of Yan Wart, two of Williams' co-patriots, and may it was just that the deeds of the latter should be equally commemorated. Elis remains the without a tablet or a stone in Schonarie country; he was the last survivor of that gai ant trie, and to continue still the spirit of '76 a monument should be placed over his remains an about to future acts of herotam. The spirit of '76 is much wanted at the present day.

Present de Recour. The spirit of '16 is much wanted at the Present Various amendments were proposed. Mr. Present vanted General Herkimer to be remembered in marble, Rielly the same of Montgomery; and Wood, of Broodyn, wanted the State to contribute a sum to the Wallabout committee; and, hast of all, Mr. Northrup wanted something for premember Jane McCree, who was murdered by the insign. Some contended that monuments of brass or state hore no comparison to the monuments of brass or state hore no comparison to the monuments erected to the momery of the revolutionary heroes in the hearts of the peonie. This whole country is their best monument. After a long debate, the original proposition was adopted in committee. If this bitl is passed, it will be the first dellar this State has ever expensed in erecting monuments.

the votes of homerable Senators, especially those who are aspiring to high homors.

Mr. Sockies presented a bill for regulating and improving the great Central park in he city. The bill in sent for insertion in the city papers, and it is hoped every one will peruse it. Mr. S. accompanied the presentation with an eleborate idea of the great benefits which would accrue to the middling and poor disease by creating a place of resert for health, recreation and crament.

The members and the "rest of mankind" in the lobby of the Legislature are impatient for Mr. Matthews we relieved from executive influence, is ready to testify. If effered to the House and adoption, we shall suggest to Mr. M. several other witnesses who have a knowledge of office brokerage a year since.

Mr. Sickles, in presenting the bill to the Senate. a clear and concise statement of the provisions of each section. In relation to that portion of the 12th section which provides for the investment of the funds in the New York Life Insurance and Trust Company and in the United States Trust Company of New York, he stated that this was a departure from the usual course with reference to the investment of the city funds, which had been beretofore deposited in the city banks. He had been disposed to adopt this means of investment in order drawing interest of five per cent, that being allowed by the companies designated. These particular companies had been named because they are the corporations selected by the courts as the places of deposit for the funds paid into the courts by suitors, and thus stand before the people with a good endorsement of their soundness. The provision for the exchange of land with the State, contained in section 12, was insettled breasure the State at present come two parcels of land within the enclosure, one of which its cleaver a reservoir for the Croton Aquesicct, which wild cover a space of one hundred acres. This immense body of water would be a great addition to the beauty of the park, for it would, in effect, have the appearance of a lake in or near its centre, and from this lake the engineers and these having the matter in charge, would provide arreams to run through the grounds, and formulain in considerable numbers, to play in appeal over the area. It was also preposed to have near the centre of the Park, a large field, or perade ground, to be used as a Chomp de Marz, and here the immediate vicinity of the Arsenal would enable them to have near the centre of the largest and grandest scale. There would be reed, too running in every direction about the park, upon which pleasant drives of many makes could be enjoyed.

Such was, succinctly, the character of this great work. And let not any one suppose that it was simply a great work. And let not any one suppose that it was simply a great work. And let not any one suppose that it was simply a great where the gay equipage of wealthy differes sained would be posen—for the experience of every nation will prove that parks are used and enjoyed more by the poor than by any other cleas.

They who are wealthy enough to keep their carriages, have generally country seats, and are therefore provided with small parks of their own; it is not for them, but it the great mass of the people—for the millions who are confined year after year to the crowded streats of the metrotolis. Those hundreds of thousands of the people who have heretofore been compelled to seek lerney City, Hobelsan, or long Island when desirous of recreation, are now debarred, by the improvements going or, from the opportunity ever of enjoying themselves; and it is in this great park that they will have space provided for them which will be more conveniently, reached and at less expense. It is therefore most emphatically for the poorer classes, for their better enjoyment, for their health and receetion that they are it

Nothing of interest was done under the general orders. The Fire Department.

The Fire Department.

A special meeting of the representatives of the New ork Fire Department was held last evening at the Mercantile Library, Astor place. A large attendance of representatives was present—John S. Becher, Esp., the Vice President, in the chair. After the reading and the approval of the minutes of the last meeting, the Chairman amounced that the object of the meeting was the election of a President to fill the vacancy caused by the decease of Mr. D. Wade, their late President.

The representatives, therefore, on motion, proceeded to taillot for a President, and on the first ballof, John S. Belcher, the Vice President, was elected, when the esection was declared unanimous. A ballot for Vice President followed, and resulted in the choice of David Milliken, Eq., the former Secretary. A ballot for Necretary next ensued, and, after two ballots, Mr. John Gillern was chosen Secretary.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned till the next regular meeting.

THE NEW YORK GROUNDPHICAL AND STATISTICAL SOCIETY .-The regular meeting of this society was held last evening in the small chapel of the University, Washington square. The attendance was quite numerous, and included a large number of ladies. At the hour appointed for the com-mercement of the proceedings eight o'clock P. M., Rev. Dr. Hawks, the President of the society, accompanied by other officers of the organization, called the meeting to order. The President said that the paper to which he order. The President said that the paper to which he would call their attention was one prepared by their collesgue, fr. Kane, and was put in the form of a communication to the Senetary of the Navy, and which, in the absence of fr. K., he (the President) would read. Ir. Kanels valuable naviative of his Arctic explorations was latered to with much attention, and at the close of the reading a vote of thanks was passed to that gendleman and to the Secretary of the Navy, for kindly furnishing a copy of the document in edvance of publication. We have a report at 100 but pressure on our columns compels us to withhold muntil to merrow.

journed meeting last evening, at the Astor House, Gover-nor West presiding. It was agreed that the birth day of Washington should be celebrated by a banquet, at the Astor House, on the 22d of February: that the tickets should be limited to one hundred and ten, unless the committee should see argent necessity for engaging a room to accommodate 250; and that the price of the tickets should be $10 each. Mr. John E. Develan, in a very meat and terse speech, explained the objects of the association to be a concentration of anti-Know Nothing elements. Mr. Poblason, the Secretary, defined the present position of the company. A subscription list was opened, and names ware put down immediately for tickets to the excent of over $000.

First Academy Examplations.—The Senior Class was even justed on Wadnagery by Dr. Webster, President of the Faculty of the Free Academy. The subject was "Butler's Analogy," the students were well grounded in the able arguments and deep reasoning of the author of this work on theology. Although all were above mediocrity, we must, in justice, single out Mesers. Pratt, Wheeler, Raing, and A McWallen, as standing at the head of the class. The Introductories were also examined in the Latin grammar by taters Enfler. Hardy and Abel, who have had rather an arduous task in taking charge of this large class, numbering over hundred and seventy-five students. Tastice to tutors are students requires an additional number of tutors. The Sentor Class was also examined in the French largesege and literature by Prof. Ecomor and tutor Multry, the most proficient students being Mesers. Pratt. Wheeler, Ens. All, Sturges, and A. McMulton. This closed the remainations till next-July. Inc. Sephemores give an exhibition medicination in the chaped of the Free Academy in Twenty-third street, at 10 o'clock this morning; and the Juniors will give their exhibition this evening at the Church of the Divine Unity, (Dr. Chapin's,) in Broadway, near Times street. BOME OF THE PROUDLERIES OF THE METROPOLS.—At the Instance of the Six January a compilet, hearing hear instance of the City Inspector, a complaint having been previously lodged in his office, a thorough examination of the buildings and premises located at the corner of Bowary and Bayard street and known as the North American Hotel, was instituted pesterday, under the immediate supervision of the sanitary department of his office. The upper part of the buildings were occupied by twenty-eight families, consisting of thirteen German, twelve Irish, one English, one Jew and one American twelve links one linglish, one Jew and one American family, making, in the aggregate, eighty-nine persons. Only about one-fourth of the upper part of the buildings is occupied, the residue being, in fact, tenanticus, by reason of the ruin and dispulation ever-where present, the rooms generally being minus all those requisites to counfort, during the pre-ont cold term at least to wit, doors and sames and plastering. Very many of the vacant rooms, if not indeed the most of them, are now used as the common depositories of all the fifth, garbage, ceal sahes, &c., of the numerous families, who, judging from some slight manifestations of pesterday, are not generally dwelling together in peace and unity. In fact, severa, of these unoccupied rooms are now barricaded and closed, being full to their utmost tension and capacity. The statistarys and entries are the fit preludes to the inner bul dings, being filled and cowered with human excrements, and the privies and collars, by reason of their indescribable fillthings, the sum total of all conceivable naminess. This building, situated in the Bowery, and valuable because of fits fine location, no atrangely neglected by the owners, and hitherto by the proper authorities, continues to be occupied as a mart of unineas. In the basement, at the corner, may be found an earing saloon, and on the first floor a grand menagerie, a barber's abop, a shormaker's abop.
